USAGE CREDITS

Your subscription includes a set number of usage credits. Different services use a different number of credits. As long as you have credits remaining, you will not be charged for included services.

Service Description	Usage Credits Used	Example Service
In-clinic visit with doctor or nurse practitioner	2	Urgent care visit to get stitches (x-ray included)
In-clinic visit without doctor or nurse practitioner	.75	Lab draw only or flu shot only
Video visit	1	Discuss your common cold and figure out a treatment plan
Chat visit	1	Discuss your UTI and figure out a treatment plan

For one usage credit, you can do an unlimited number of chat and video visits per patient per day.

The maximum number of usage credits charged per person per day is two usage credits. For example, you have a chat visit with a nurse practitioner about your cold. Your cough is so bad that she advises you go into a nearby clinic for an x-ray. Later that day, you fall down the stairs, cutting your leg. You go into the clinic for stitches. The maximum number of usage credits you will be charged for this entire very bad day is 2 usage credits.

12 credits are meant to be more than enough coverage for most people. Here are some examples of what a DoctorWellington member could do in a year covered by their 12 credits:

Example 1: Seeing your primary care provider every other month in the clinic. (6 in-clinic visits)

Total credits used: 12 credits

Example 2: Seeing your primary care provider for your yearly physical, two urgent care visits, one video visit, and four chat visits.

Total credits used: 11 credits

Example 3: One chat or video visit every month of the year. One in-clinic visit after the chat visit advised you to go in the clinic to get an x-ray.

Total credits used: 12 credits
